Dear Nicolette Emerson,

I asked the person who handled the order for twenty copies of SAVE THE MIDWIFE how she had sent the books, and when.

Apparently she delivered them by car to the address she was given, in plenty of time for the conference, she said. She said there was a man there, whom she told about the books, and he seemed to know all about them.

So could you please explore a little further and see whether they are in fact languishing in someone's house?

Looks like my typewriter is hh- packing up!

Best wishes,

WENDY HARREX
