Dear Mrs Churton

Clarity Communications Ltd, a Wellington-based communications agency and consultancy, has recently established an office in Auckland.

Clarity is a media consultancy. We run courses that help community groups achieve a higher public profile and keep their members better informed. Our courses cover areas such as understanding the media and using them to your advantage, writing and producing newsletters, and improving the image of your organisation.

Would you like to learn how to write punchy press releases, present your organisation well in a radio or television interview, and put together a professional-looking newsletter?

Clarity will be running a media course for community groups on Tuesday 5 May, from 9.30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The course will be conducted by media consultant Felicity Price. The venue is not yet confirmed but we'll let you know as soon as possible. The cost will be $65.00 plus GST.

If you would like to attend this course or find out about Clarity's other media services, please write to P.O. Box 10189, Auckland, or phone 768 475.

Yours sincerely

Jane Connor
