Dear Madam,

At the moment I am considering a home birth for my second child. Could you please send me some information about the Home Birth Association, the criteria for having a home birth and the names of doctors and midwives in my area who do home births.

I also have a friend who would love to have a home birth but had a caesarian for her first child. (She has n't had any more) Does that totally exclude her from having a home birth?

Yours faithfully,
Cathy Davies
