Dear Madam

Last year a number of your members were kind enough to fill in a "sleep questionnaire" for a survey I was carrying out. From that I wrote a book which has been circulating publishers. I am happy to report that the book which I have called "Carins four babies at Night" has been accepted for publication by Lonsman Paul and will appear on the shelves early next year.

It will be a small easy-to-read inexpensive book (retailing around $7) which the confident mother as well as the "mother-in-the-street" should find informative. If you are interested in holding a copy in your library let me know because I shall have a few available at a slightly cheaper rate.

Thankyou for your help and support
